Shri. Gajendra Singh Shekhawat

Hon'ble Minister of Culture and Minister of Tourism, Government of India

It is pleasure to know that the Federation of Hotel & Restaurant Associations of India (FHRAI) is hosting its 55th Annual Convention in Bengaluru, with the theme “Future Scape 2047 – Redefining Hospitality for a New India.”

As India progresses confidently towards its centenary of independence in 2047, the hospitality and tourism sector will play a vital role in shaping the vision of a developed, inclusive, and globally competitive nation. Hospitality is more than an industry – it is an expression of India's age-old values of Atithi Devo Bhava, and a powerful medium through which the world experiences our culture, diversity, and warmth.

The theme of this year's convention rightly reflects the need to reimagine and transform the sector to align with the aspirations of Viksit Bharat. Innovation, sustainability, digitalization, and skill development will be the key drivers that redefine the future of Indian hospitality, making it more resilient, dynamic, and globally relevant.

I am confident that the deliberations at FHRAI's Annual Convention will generate valuable insights and actionable strategies that will contribute meaningfully to the sector's growth. As the industry adapts to new challenges and opportunities, it must continue to uphold excellence in service, promote responsible tourism, and contribute to employment and entrepreneurship across the country.

I convey my best wishes to the organizers and participants for a successful and impactful convention.

Gajendra Singh Shekhawat

Minister of Culture and Minister of Tourism,
Government of India

Shri. Rammohan Naidu Kinjarapu

Hon'ble Minister of Civil Aviation, Government of India

I extend my heartfelt congratulations to the Federation of Hotel and Restaurant Associations of India (FHRAI) on hosting its 55th Annual Convention – Futurescape 2047: Redefining Hospitality for a New India.

Since its inception in 1955, FHRAI has served as the credible voice of India's hospitality sector, offering an effective interface with all stakeholders. Moving ahead as we march toward Viksit Bharat 2047, hospitality will be one of the defining pillars of India's global identity. So, I perceive it more than just an industry, it is a symbol of India's warmth, diversity and the age-old tradition of 'Atithi Devo Bhava'.

As an enabler for the hospitality sector, our expanding international and regional air connectivity is welcoming everyone to experience India like never before. From 2014 to 2024, Indian carriers have increased international flights from 1.15 lakh to over 2 lakhs, while domestic flights have grown from 6 lakh to 11 lakh annually. With 162 operational airports today and a roadmap to expand to 350–400 by 2047, I see the aviation sector of New India as a powerful catalyst for the rise of a New-age hospitality ecosystem.

For this, I envision a future where Hospitality 4.0 is seamlessly integrated into every step of the traveler's journey, while staying rooted in India's warmth and culture. And I appreciate how FHRAI is playing the leading role in encouraging the country's hospitality sector for adoption of digital tools and technology.

I am confident that FHRAI's 55th Annual Convention will be a grand success, furthering technological advancements in the hospitality sector. Let us work together to ensure that India's hospitality experience is not just world-class, but uniquely Indian.
